Fireward's Report

Three buildings have been totally destroyed by fire with their contents: On June 3d, the residence of Edward Patrea, the personal property being a total loss, there being a small insurance on the building; cause, an overheated stove or stove-funnel. June 25th, the "Perham barn" and about 25 cords of dry hard wood owned by Harvey A. and William P. Clark were totally destroyed with no insurance; cause unknown. On the afternoon of August 23d the barn of Jacob Autio was struck by lightning and totally destroyed with contents valued at least $1000, with no insurance. Mrs. Autio barely escaped the flames and a grandson, Emil Paro, who was probably instantly killed by the lightning, was removed by members of Chemical Engine Company as soon as the remains could be located. A general alarm was given October 19th for a fire at Rodman Schaff's residence; damage slight, covered by insurance. There have been several still alarms for chimney fires, with little or no damage. The frequent rains eliminated the forest fire peril last summer.

The following fires are recorded:—

March 17—Chimney fire at Mabel Murray's.
May 23—Chimney fire at F. W. Crooker's.
June 3—Edward Patrea's residence.
June 25—Perham barn fire.
August 23—Jacob Autio barn fire.
October 19—Rodman Schaff fire.
October 28—Fire on Angier land.
November 24—Chimney fire at Faranola's.

December 20—Chimney fire at G. B. Veazie's.
January 2—Chimney fire, Depot schoolhouse.

The equipment of both companies has been found in good condition, the response has been prompt for the various calls and the work conducted in an efficient manner. The following is a list of the property of the department:—

AT EAGLE ENGINE HOUSE

One Hunneman hand engine, 1 hose carriage, 4 lengths good suction hose, 4 lengths poor suction hose, 1 block and 1 strainer for suction hose, 600 feet of leading hose, 20 feet of hose for hand extinguishers, 2 wrenches, 13 spanners, 1 siamese coupling and 2 nozzles for the leading hose, 1 hammer, 6 belts, 4 rubber coats, 4 rubber caps, 2 pair rubber boots, 3 old coats, 6 buckets, 3 axes, 1 hammer, 1 screwdriver, 2 kettles, 3 neck yokes, 4 runners, 2 hooks for leading hose, 4 chains, 1 ladder, 1 pole, 1 auto jack, 13 shovels, 6 hoes, 1 bell from old engine, ½ carboy of acid, 1 keg of soda, 1 rake, 1 broom, 1 iron stamp for marking tools, 5 lanterns, 22 round-bottom pails, 13 flat-bottom pails, 5 hand extinguishers, 1 screw-driver.

Your supervisors are pleased to report to the citizens of the town that during the past year there has been a large increase in the number of books borrowed from the Town Library and also from the Branch Library at the Depot Village.

The "Library Sewing Circle" bears all the expense of maintaining the Branch Library at the Depot Village.

Extra copies of the pamphlet containing a full description of the Proceedings of the Dedication of the Library Building can be obtained of the Librarian at the Library at 10 cents a copy.

We would again call the attention of our citizens to the provision of Chapter 8 of the Public Statutes of New Hampshire; also to Chapter 118 of the Laws of 1895 in relation to the establishment and maintenance of free public libraries.

Respectfully submitted,

ANNIE L. COLBY, Librarian.

Report of School Board

Report of Superintendent of Schools

To the School Board of Fitzwilliam:—

I beg to submit to you and, through you, to the citizens of the Fitzwilliam Town School District, my report as Superintendent of your schools,—this being my first annual report, but the seventeenth presented under the district supervision plan.

My comments will consist of a brief survey of conditions as I found them on assuming office September 1st, an outline of the work that has been attempted since that time, suggestions as to future administrative policy and a few minor remarks on various phases of the situation.

Accompanying this report you will find several statistical tables, a part of which are for the school year 1915-1916 (during the service of my predecessor) and a part for the first term of the present school year.

The school calendar as arranged for the remainder of the school year is as follows: Vacation of one week from February 16 to February 26; school session of seven weeks from February 26 to April 13; vacation of two weeks from April 13 to April 30; school session of seven weeks from April 30 to June 15. The High School will be obliged to modify this schedule on account of a vacation of two weeks the latter part of January. It will consequently be in session continuously from February 5 to April 13 and will then have a vacation of one week, reopening on April 23 and continuing to June 15.

For the early part of the school year 1917-1918 I recommend the following schedule: School reopen Tuesday, September 4, and continue twelve weeks to Friday, November 23; vacation of one week; school session of three weeks from December 3 to December 21; vacation of two weeks to January 7, 1918. Without specifying exact dates I should suggest that the remainder of the school year be divided into three periods of seven weeks each.

As my election to the position of Superintendent came the latter part of the summer I found all teaching positions filled except that of assistant at the High School. For this vacancy Miss Katherine A. Walker of Beverly, Mass., a graduate of Simmons, was selected. All the other teachers were in service in your schools last year, except Miss Mildred E. Holtham of Troy, who gives one day each week to musical instruction—a new position created by your Board last summer.

The schools at the "Depot" and the rural school in District No. 10 started with promise of excellent work and have fully maintained the standard hoped for. That in District No. 1 (State Line) has been conducted under somewhat adverse conditions, but as good results have been obtained as could be expected and the teacher deserves credit for the manner in which she has met the various problems that have arisen.

The two village schools (in the Town Hall Building) did not commence the year in just the manner that might be desired. This situation was taken up very carefully and, through the happy co-operation of teachers, pupils and parents very marked improvement was brought about so that these schools are today, I believe, in excellent condition with every promise of continued good work. I wish to thank most heartily all concerned for the manner in which suggestions have been received and for the highly satisfactory manner in which they have been carried out.

As for the High School I must say that I have not at any time been entirely satisfied with the conditions. There has appeared to be a lack of dominant leadership and co-operation, both of which are essential factors in the highest success of any high school, more particularly of a semi-rural high school such as yours. I am hoping that, under the present regime,—which has been in operation too short a time to pass upon its efficiency—we shall see a decided improvement along these lines. If such shall not prove to be the case I shall feel obliged to make drastic recommendations to your Board. The resignation of Mr. Henry A. King as Principal of the school, to accept a position in Massachusetts, came at a time that proved difficult for the securing of a successor. I trust, however, that Mr. Eldon S. Moberg, who assumed charge of the school on February 5, will measure up to our anticipations and that the school may prove itself before the end of the year to be the important and successful factor that it should be in your local educational system.

I believe that school authorities should deal openly and frankly with the citizens whose agents they are. These citizens send their children to the public schools—and pay the bills. Our schools are their schools and they should know what we are trying to do and why. With this viewpoint in mind kindly allow me to submit a few suggestions as to certain phases of the educational policy which I shall hope to have the co-operation of your Board and the community generally in carrying out.

Present-day conditions have materially modified the functions of the public school and many duties have been thrust upon it which formerly it was not required to assume. Whether this is a fortunate or an unfortunate condition depends largely upon the spirit in which these new duties are undertaken.

In the first place there is a vastly broadened conception of the meaning of the term EDUCATION. The school-room and the text-book are less important factors than ever before since the early days of our country's history. We are attempting to fit the subject matter to the pupil—not the pupil to the subject matter. This involves a study of the child, and a teacher who approaches her work without a knowledge of the child mind, or at least without a proper conception of the part that the individuality and the mental processes of the pupil play in her educative endeavors, can hope for but indifferent success in the school of today.

The second most important consideration is a recognition of the relation that must exist between teacher and text-book. The text-book must be the servant of the teacher rather than the teacher the slave of the text-book. Obviously under such conditions the teacher must have a thorough knowledge of her subject matter and use her text-book in much the same manner as the public speaker uses his notes—merely to suggest the line of thought rather than to specify the exact diction. In the higher grades and in the secondary school much the same relationship must exist between pupil and text-book.

A third dominant function of the teacher is that of directing the pupil along lines of self-endeavor—teaching him how and where to find his mental food rather than feeding him with sugar-coated, predigested intellectual pellets; in other words—in plain English—teaching the boy and girl habits of originality, self-respect and self-reliance.

A fourth important feature to give consideration is that of the health of the school and, through the school, the health of the community. There is no agency that can accomplish more for the general physical welfare of the community than the proper directing of the children in habits of right living. A more direct aspect of this feature is the hygienic condition of school-room and outbuildings—especially in a rural community where modern facilities for proper ventilation of school-rooms and for healthful disposition of filth and foul odors are not available.

Closely connected with the above is a fifth factor that is of utmost importance—that of the moral and social influence of the school. The teacher must recognize this feature of her work and by precept and practice aim to develop the highest ideals. And this can be best accomplished, not by high sounding "preachments," but by simple and concrete illustrations of the best practice in the everyday problems of the everyday school life.

Of course in the complicated interrelations that exist among all the various factors that go to make up the life of the school there are numerous other considerations that must be kept in mind if the teacher is to make the most of her opportunities, but perhaps those enumerated are of sufficient importance to warrant special mention.

These various thoughts have been, during the past months, presented to your teachers and in most cases have been well received and faithfully acted upon. In fact, in most respects, the suggestions of your superintendent along these lines have merely served to encourage the teachers in the work that they were already doing.

One of the worst features of the rural and small village school is the lack of proper supervision over the pupils during the time outside of school hours when they are about the school grounds—before and after school, at recess and during the noon hour. During these periods, if the pupils are allowed to "run wild" they will forget more good and learn more evil than during all the rest of the day. The three remedies for this condition—aside from a right attitude on the part of the teacher—are supervised play, proper care for the cleanliness and appearance of the out-buildings and the "warm noon lunch." Something has been done in your schools with the two last mentioned agencies and with excellent results. I am hoping for still further improvement and for a beginning in directive activities on the playgrounds.

I have already recommended to your Board minor and inexpensive changes which will tend to better results along these lines—which are gradually being carried out. From time to time I shall offer further suggestions, one of the most important of which will be that something be done to improve the appearance of our school grounds, which at present is anything but creditable. In the early spring I shall ask the class in farm mechanics at the High School to assist in screening some or all of the school-rooms and to attend to other minor matters of physical equipment that will improve the appearance and hygienic condition of the buildings.

As you well know, the problem of fuel has been a difficult one during the winter. Wood has been hard to get and of poor quality. I advise that bids be asked for at once for a supply of wood for next winter and that such a supply be delivered at the various school buildings, cut and put in at an early date. Such a plan should insure better prices and a higher quality of fuel.

The schoolhouse at State Line is in such condition that it is hardly suitable for school purposes and cannot be made so except at a large outlay. It may be advisable to close this school and transport the pupils to the village before very long. I am not prepared at present to specifically advise such a course, but it is at least worthy of consideration.

Before the close of the school year I shall submit to you a definite plan for a reorganization of the courses in the upper grades of the elementary schools and the addition of a fourth year at the High School. This will call for the transfer of the seventh and eighth grades at the village to the High School building, thus establishing a six-year high school, and a change in content in these grades as they are taught in the other schools of the town. This plan is in accord with the best practice of the day and should add to the efficiency of the schools without material increase in total cost.

Owing to the large increase in prices on school supplies during the past year—averaging around one hundred per cent. —the handling of this item for next year without an increased appropriation will require close figuring and economical use of materials. I am hoping, however, that it can be done. I have already asked for bids on supplies and, by purchasing for all the four towns of the district at one time and of the lowest bidder, hope to effect something of a saving.

I am well pleased that you have been able to employ a supervisor of music and feel that a good beginning has been made. I certainly hope that it may continue.

In summarizing allow me to say that every town and, in fact, every separate school offers its own peculiar problems and no set plan of procedure can be adopted that will fit every case. Each local situation must be studied and a method applied in the handling of the details both of administration and instruction that will best satisfy the specific conditions. To accomplish such results there is necessity for the fullest co-operation among parents, teachers, pupils, superintendent and school authorities to the end that a thorough knowledge of conditions and needs may be obtained and that a system suitable to those needs may be harmoniously and effectively carried out. I appreciate the fact that such a spirit has been shown to a marked degree in my dealings with you and with those whom you represent and wish to express the hope that we may all continue in a spirit of hearty co-operation for the best interests of all the people—both young and old—of the whole community.

Very respectfully,

O. H. TOOTHAKER, Superintendent.

Fitzwilliam, N. H., February 15, 1917.

*One day each week in Depot and Village Schools.

The above tables show a net falling off in school attendance of 14. This is due almost entirely to business conditions at the Depot. Attention should be called to the abnormal number of tardinesses for the school year 1915-1916. So far this year the teachers have taken this matter up energetically with the result that there has been a reduction of over 50 per cent. in the number.

Report of Medical Inspector

To the Superintendent and School Board of Fitzwilliam, N. H.:

I would respectfully submit the following report of the medical inspection of the schools during the year 1916.

The inspection has not been fully completed, but will be before the end of the school year.

Number of children examined, 136.

Number who have had—

Chicken pox	21	Enlarged glands	1
Whooping cough	37	Defective teeth	88
Measles	43	Defective eyes	20
Diphtheria	3	Enlarged tonsils (all degrees)	57
Scarlet fever	3	Adenoids	39
Mumps	41
Anemia	1

A few who had not been vaccinated at the beginning of the school year have since been vaccinated, so that practically all of the children in the schools at the present time have complied with the law in this respect.

It is impossible to get an accurate record of the contagious diseases which the primary children have had, as many do not know whether they have had them or not.

Too large a percentage of the children have defective teeth, many have very bad teeth, and many more have teeth which could be saved if they could have proper treatment. Every tooth as soon as it begins to decay should be filled.

Children cannot have good digestion with a mouth filled with decayed teeth which at all times are full of decayed food. Parents do not insist upon the use of the tooth brush to as great an extent as they should. The teeth should be kept clean both for looks and for the health of the child.

It is not necessary for every child who has slightly enlarged tonsils or adenoids to have them removed, but when the adenoids or tonsils interfere with breathing (causing mouth breathing), when they cause catarrh, deafness, or the general health is impaired, an operation should be demanded for the child's good, to prevent permanent injury.

Pediculosis (head lice) are by no means rare in our schools. This is a source of great annoyance to the teachers and to those pupils who do not care to contract this trouble. Parents should not allow their children to attend school if they are aware that their heads are infested, or after their attention has been called to the trouble by the teacher or medical inspector, until the heads have been satisfactorily treated by any of the approved methods.

Children with sore faces should not be allowed to attend school, as some of these conditions are very contagious.

Wax in the ears and dirty ears were found to be quite common and many children were informed of the fact that their ears needed attention

Children with hard colds, grip or tonsilitis should not be sent to school until fully recovered, as these are as infectious as mumps or measles.

Parents should co-operate with the teachers and Medical Inspector in every effort which they make to improve the physical or mental welfare of the children.

GEORGE S. EMERSON,

Medical Inspector.

Estimates for 1917-18

To the Voters of the Town of Fitzwilliam:—

The ever increasing cost of conducting town affairs has reached such a point that your selectmen and school board have deemed it wise to present to the town this year a carefully prepared budget of what they consider is absolutely necessary to conduct the town and school affairs. We have done this so you may come to town meeting with a thorough knowledge of the rate of taxation which will be required for the bare necessities of the town.

It is estimated that for every $1000 raised this year a tax of about 12 cents on every $100 taxed will be required to be raised. With this in view you can readily see that if the greatest care and denial is not exercised in raising money at the coming town meeting we shall have a tax rate which will not only be a burden to our citizens, but will have a deterring effect on any industries or people wishing to come here.

Below is appended our budget:—

Town officers	$1,000 00
Police department	150 00
Fire department	350 00
Town library, for books	55 00
Town library, running expenses and painting	400 00
Highways and bridges	4,500 00
Town Hall lights	55 00
Town poor	300 00
Moth extermination	200 00
Street lights	840 00

Care of cemetery	100 00
Water supply	25 00
Interest on notes	275 85
State tax, approximately	1,342 50
County tax, approximately	2,048 65
Surplus on the above	538 00

FOR SCHOOLS

Books and supplies	335 00
School district officers	125 00
Amount required to be raised by law	1,350 00
Additional amount required for schools	2,000 00
High school	1,500 00
General repairs	400 00
	$17,890 00

This estimate represents only such amounts in the various departments as we consider necessary to run the town. To raise this amount, based on a valuation of $840,000, a tax rate of $2.13 would be required; and for each $1000 above this budget which you vote to raise 12 cents per $100 additional must be added to this rate.

Respectfully submitted, Feb. 24, 1917,

HENRY C. TENNEY
CLARENCE M. DAMON,
LEROY E. GILSON,
Selectmen of Fitzwilliam.

FRANCIS R. PARKER,
CHARLES L. WILLIAMS,
GEORGE S. EMERSON,
School Board of Fitzwilliam.
